

Buck & Hickman backs railway league superstars

The Luton branch of Buck & Hickman has teamed up with a long standing customer to sponsor its newly formed football team.

Buck & Hickman Luton Branch Manager, Paul Sandell, has worked closely with the team from the London Underground Northumberland Park Depot for a number of years and jumped at the chance to support the team as it entered an internal league for the railway industry.

Paul, said: “The rail industry football league is extremely competitive so I was pleased to be able to give the Northumberland Park Depot boys the support of Buck & Hickman.

“With a 3-2 win against Bombardier under their belts already it looks as though our sponsorship was just what they needed! Hopefully the winning streak will continue and they can work their way into the even tougher London Underground league.”

Buck & Hickman has supplied tools, health and safety and maintenance supplies to Northumberland Park Depot for five years. The depot serves as the service and storage area for trains on the Victoria Line of the London Underground.

Buck & Hickman Luton launched its ‘Tooltastic’ trade counter earlier this year as a counter service tailored to the needs of builders, tradesmen and DIY enthusiasts. An online ‘Tooltastic’ service is also available at www.tooltastic.com, or call the branch on 01582 410495 for further information.
