Buck & Hickman launches revolutionary socket set

Buck & Hickman has launched the UK's first universal socket set, suitable for virtually any type of fastener and even those where the shoulders have become up to 70 per cent rounded off.

The Unisocket is exclusive to the leading tool supplier under its 'Roebuck' brand and provides the ideal solution for mechanics and engineers who need to work on a wide range of fastener types or on equipment where fasteners are likely to have become damaged.

The UniSocket can do all of this thanks to its revolutionary socket design with one socket type able to fit virtually all types of fastener and the other capable of locking on securely to rounded off fasteners.

Kevin Thompson, Product Manager at Buck & Hickman, said: "This is a fantastic product that will appeal to engineers and mechanics in a wide range of industries. Rather than having to endlessly search around for a socket that fits, the UniSocket provides a solution for virtually any application, saving time, tool box space and the need to invest in more than one set."

The Roebuck brand is exclusive to Buck & Hickman and offers a comprehensive range of over 23,000 tools, maintenance and health and safety products. Roebuck is unique in its combination of range, industrial quality and outstanding value for money.
